REVIEW OF MONTH ENDED 30 APRIL 2022 – CLASS A

Our results for April 2022 in the $ Class were +1.07% and +5.53% in the GBP£ Class. Our core results were impacted by the sharp depreciation of £ which favours the £ Class and has an adverse effect on the $ Class. In the absence of currency movements our underlying results for both classes were approximately +1.5%.

We funded the two new loans we referred to in our last letter. These contributed useful closing fees for the month, which boosted our core returns. We have one listed equity position, resulting from a convertible loan which, while very small (1.8% of assets), has proven to be very volatile and adversely impacted our results.

Overall we are pleased with our results in this turbulent environment where most markets are showing negative results.

The Fund was approximately 84.2% exposed to the US$ and 15.8% to Sterling after our currency hedging.

At month end our cash balances stood at 5.7% of the Fund's total assets and cash and near cash stood at 8.5%.

The approximate overall yield on our loan assets, in April 2022, prior to costs, fees and balance sheet and currency movements is shown below.

April 2022 Yield on Opening Loan Portfolio	2.05%
April 2022 Yield on Total Opening Assets	1.52%

We have 21 open loan positions. We also hold twelve equity positions (private and public) with a carrying value amounting to 7.49% of the total assets of Class A.
